Washington State Supreme Court Justice Mary Yu will be in Montesano on Monday making stops at the Courthouse, Montesano High and Gepetto's Pizza.

Out and Proud Grays Harbor Coalition will be hosting an "Intentional Community Conversation" with Justice Yu from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. The discussion will be an opportunity for discussion around the subjects of poverty, addiction, lesbian, gay, bisexual and queer youth in social services programs and how the community can ally with groups that are marginalized.

Parent Child Assistance Program Director, Miki Cabell, will be speaking about addiction and the impact it has on underserved and oppressed populations. The Children's Advocacy Center will also have a role at the event.

Before the discussion at Montesano High, Yu will be at the Courthouse at 8:15 for a tour with Judge F. Mark McCauley. And, at noon, Yu will be at a luncheon presentation with the Grays Harbor Bar Association that will take place at Gepetto's restaurant.

Yu was appointed to the Washington Supreme Court in May of 2014 and subsequently elected for the remainder of a two-year- term. The appointment made her the first openly gay and Asian American justice to serve on the state's Supreme Court.
